Announcement of the rapid and complete election of a President and Vice President of the United States, the veteran author, Col. Frank Tripplitt, and published by N. D. Thompson & Co., St. Louis, Mo.,

and New York. This work is sold through agents exclusively. It is designed, not only to serve the popular taste and want in giving, exhaustively, the facts in the background and method of the candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presidency, but to have a more enduring interest than the ordinary campaign book. To this end the Publishers have engaged on the work

a corps of skilled designers and engravers to produce a most interesting and instructive feature of this timely work.

Col. Tripplitt has marked ability, and enjoys special distinction as a Biographical writer. While exhaustive in the recital of facts, his power of analysis, and his keen insight into the philosophy of events, and measures, give him a special prominence

among American writers of person history.

It is not too much to say that he is better prepared for the work in hand

than any other American author.

The book, from the first of which several have been published, has met the popular taste and been more than ordinarily successful. They have given him high rank among American authors, and the public now looks to him for a new work. This Democratic Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT,
GROVER CLEVELAND, New York

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
T. A. HENDRICKS, Indiana.

For Member of Congress,
FRANK POWERS, of Carter.

A Big Gun.

We are pleased to announce that Hon. Jo. S. C. Blackburn has accepted an invitation to address the voters of Bath county at the Court House on Tuesday next. No word in praise from us is needed. Let every one turn out to hear this orator, who stands without a rival in the State.

Over In Ohio.

It would make the slow-going Kentucky Democrat ashamed of himself to take a trip to Ohio and witness the determination and enthusiasm of their brethren in that state which is now ablaze with excitement from one end to the other. In every town and hamlet Cleveland and Hendricks clubs have been formed and speaking and torch light processions are of nightly occurrence. If they do not carry the state next Tuesday it will be because of the immense sums of money which have been sent to the State by the Republicans, who are fighting for their very existence and consequently, with desperation. We were in the state on Friday, Saturday and Sunday last and talked to a great many democrats. They are of the opinion that if the election had taken place any day last week they would undoubtedly have carried the state by from ten to twenty thousand. What changes the present week will bring forth they were not prepared to say. This week will be devoted to effecting more perfect organizations and crystallizing of forces. On the other hand the Republicans just as confidently claim the state but will not give nor venture one doubtful prominent Kentucky Republican in Cincinnati who said their majority would be all the way from twenty to twenty-five thousand.

The Blaine demonstration in Cincinnati last Thursday night was very naturally a monster affair but it will be a mere pigmy when compared with the Democratic jamboree Saturday night. Democratic clubs from all the cities and towns in Kentucky, within striking distance of Cincinnati, have determined to attend uniformed and with torches.

The vote next Tuesday will probably reach eight hundred thousand. Some idea of the political temperature can be formed when it is known, with all this tremendous vote, neither party can lay claim, justly, to more than a few thousand majority.

We hope for success, but with the lights of the past to guide our judgment we advise all of our friends to be prepared for a disappointment. If we do down them we will all join hands and have a regular old fashioned blow-out.

The New York Truth, an independent journal, which has heretofore taken no part in the Presidential canvass, now says: "After weighing all the evidence pro and con we do not hesitate to recommend every voter to cast his ballot for Cleveland and Hendricks. It would be disgraceful were the American people to indorse the dishonorable tactics adopted by Mr. Blaine and the Republican leaders in this campaign by the election of Blaine and Logan. The course pursued by them is not only disgraceful—it is demoralizing. Its indorsement now would lead to a like course in the future, and the effect would be to undermine and destroy all the decencies of life—to corrupt and degrade the whole people. It would be a bad example to our young men, who read the papers and observe the political maneuvers of the day, to show them that dishonorable conduct in a candidate may be rewarded by the highest office in the gift of the American people."

Did you ever hear Blackburn speak? Well, although your life has been a barren waste up to the present time, you may yet retrieve a portion of it if you will come to town Tuesday and hear him.

The subscribers of the Apostolic Times should rebuke the attempt of its editors to drag the robes of the church through the slimy mire of politics, by discontinuing the paper.

Home In The Proof.

Here is the incontrovertible proof that Mr. Wadsworth deliberately scratched Asbury's name:

STATE OF KENTUCKY.

MASON COUNTY, Sec:

I, W. W. Ball, clerk of the county court for the county and state aforesaid, do certify that at an election held on the 6th day of August, 1883, for Mason county Kentucky, in Mayesville, voting precinct No. 2, W. H. Wadsworth sr, voted for Thos. Z. Morrow, for Governor, for Speed S. Fry for Lieutenant Governor, for L. C. Garrigus for Attorney General, for Edward Farley for Treasurer, for J. P. Pinkerton for Superintendent of Public Instruction, for Register of Land Office, he did not vote, and for Representative, he voted for A. A. Wadsworth, all of which is shown by the poll book, of said voting precinct on file in my office.

Given under my hand this 2d day of October 1884.

W. W. Ball,
Clerk Mason Co. Ct.

We see from the Denver papers that Col. Will. L. Vissler, (our Will) has been nominated by the Democrats of that city for the Legislature. Vissler, we are all with you and will vote both men and money to further your interests. The "unfettered" of Denver have done themselves very proud in this selection. Of course he will be elected. Who could vote against him? And won't he keep things lively over in his wing of the capitol.

Governor Glick of Kansas, has issued a proclamation prohibiting the introduction of cattle into Kansas from the States of Kentucky, Iowa, Nebraska and Missouri until after they have undergone a quarantine of sixty days at the point of introduction, and have been released under a clean bill of health from the State Veterinary Surgeon. He also prohibits the introduction of Jersey cattle from any State in the Union.

The Lexington City Council last night accepted the proposition of the Chattanooga spoke factory to come there, and donated ground and building. An ordinance was passed to exempt from taxation for ten years all manufacturing concerns located there and employing fifty or more hands.

A good many of the Federal officeholders have already begun to hedge. By the way, the name of the man who is hedging is J. J. Nesbitt, Sec'y.

Bring your neighbor to town with you Tuesday and the old 'oman too, when you come to hear Blackburn rattle the rails.

Bald Eagle.

Mr. Wesley Whaley, of Coffee county, Kansas, is visiting relatives and friends in this neighborhood.

Mr. Sam Rogers sold to Andrew English two pair of work mules at $300 per pair.

Members Jas. Ratliff, Roland Burbidge and Tom Jeff Jones leave today for Kansas for the purpose of locating a cattle ranch.

There is a rumor afloat in this neighborhood that Joe Terry, who left here last week for his home in Texas is dead. One report says he was killed on the cars near Louisville. The other report is to the effect that he died from hemorrhage of the lungs, caused from an old wound he received while living here, several years ago. We sincerely hope that these rumors are untrue, and that Joe is ere this at his home with his family.

From the South.

To those who live in the densely peopled counties of the Blue Grass, Ky., some of the pictures of southern life and habits given in these letters may seem romance but to those who have traveled through these regions in the rear of a mule or horse drove, they will be but pictures of scenes and characters, and very familiar.

Disenchant your minds of all thoughts of green pastures, well kept, well fenced, umbrageous trees, and herds of short-horn or droves of satin-skinned horses, and picture to your mind's eye tall, melancholy pines, sprawling oaks, black jacks, and underbrush and Ledgides, a cross between sheep sorrel and dog fennel. No grass but crab grass and nameless weeds; no fences worthy the name; no corn that a knob farmer would recognize as such; no cattle, no hogs, or horses but travesties only so called "stock." Nothing, absolutely nothing except cotton, cotton, "ab-nau-can," and you have some idea of how things look down here. It is enough to give a Kentuckian the "jim-jams" in a week after landing, if he be not sustained by a stern sense of duty or a triumphant faith.

Add to this, the fact that the country houses are built of pine boards, gutters of any point, the floors bare of any carpets and the whole concern presenting the appearance of a "camp," and you will find by wondering what is the matter with the people that they can be satisfied to live so, for a more miserable outlook can hardly be conceived. You ask what is wrong here? Without pretending to be able to give altogether a satisfactory answer to the query, my residence having been so brief

It will answer it in one word—Tennessee.

The war beggared this people, the carpet baggers pillaged and plunged them into debt, and railroad monopolies have finished by putting their heels upon them. I am told, and I believe truthfully that not a dozen farms are held in the county of Carroll unencumbered by a mortgage. The planters can barely make enough from their impoverished lands to pay their taxes and interest, and support their families, leaving nothing to expend on improvements. They have lost all spring and drag out a weary life without hope of better days.

If I had not been a Democrat before my visit here, this surely would have made me an undying foe to all that calls itself Yankee. It makes my blood boil while listening to what the people of this country had to bear from the cursed fanatics of the North. If retribution comes in this life, surely the radical hounds and jackals of the post-bellum days will have a long score to answer. Yet in all their deep poverty and distress their hospitality and kindness to the suffering, puts to shame the far-famed character of my native state. Oh, Kentucky! Land of wealth and plenty, thank the beneficent giver of thy blessings that you drink not the bitter dregs commended to the lips of these unfortunate slaves. Think kindly of her suffering people when you read of outrages perpetrated upon the worthless negro tribes which eat away her heart. Truly every heart knows its own sorrow best.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a meeting of Bath Lodge, No. 55 F. & A. M., held on the third day of October, 1884, the following proceedings were had, to wit: The Lodge having returned from the funeral of their late brother Tifford Moore, the W. M. appointed a committee consisting of B. Guggell, Daniel Harper and A. S. Thomas, to prepare resolutions expressive of the sense of the Lodge relative to the death of Bro. Moore. The committee retired and upon returning reported the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted, to wit: The undersigned committee, to whom was referred the matter of preparing suitable resolutions expressive of the sense of this Lodge relative to the death of our Brother Tifford Moore, beg leave to report, that Brother Tifford Moore was made a Mason in this Lodge on the 26th day of December, 1857, and died on the first day of October, 1884, in fraternal fellowship of this Lodge. Therefore, be it Resolved, That this Lodge, by the death of Bro. Moore, has sustained the loss of one of its oldest and faithful members; that we deeply sympathize with the family of our deceased brother in their great affliction. The widow and little orphan children of our deceased brother shall have all the encouragement and aid we as Masons can extend, in fighting the battles of life.

Resolved, That the Lodge Hall be draped in mourning, and that the members of this Lodge wear the usual badge of mourning for one month; that the Secretary of the Lodge furnish the publisher of the Owingville Post a notice of the death of our Brother Tifford Moore, and that he furnish the family of deceased with a copy of the same.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE!

John F. Stone, plaintiff, against

By virtue of a judgment of the Bath Circuit Court, I shall, as Master Commissioner of said court, on the same being the first day of the Bath county court, at the court house door in the town of Owingville, Bath county, Ky., offer for sale to the highest bidder the one ninth of the following described tract of land, viz:

MONDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1884

A certain piece or parcel of land situate in the county of Bath, on the waters of Bald Eagle creek, being the same land sold by Milton P. Stone to Omar Wilson and now in the possession of Daniel Emmons. Said land is described as follows: Beginning at a stake corner with Geo. A. Whitney, in Jas. Ratliff's line, thence N 5 E 26 21-100 poles to a stake in said Ratliff's line, thence S 88 29 W 91 64-100 poles to a stake in L. M. Stone's line, thence S 10 W 12 56-100 poles to a stone corner with George A. Whitney, thence S 83 E 4 80-100 poles to a stake corner with same, thence S 81 E 13 64-100 poles to a stake, corner with same N 88 E 37 32-100 poles to the beginning, containing 14 acres, three rods and 21 poles of land.

I will sell one ninth of said tract of land or enough thereof to pay the sum of $146.65 with interest thereon at the rate of 8 per cent per annum from 17th Sept. '82, and costs of sale. Said one ninth part of said land will be sold to the highest bidder on a credit of six months, the purchaser to execute bond payable to John F. Stone, with good security, having the same force and effect as a judgment, on which execution may issue if not paid at maturity, and retaining a lien on the interest sold till said bond is fully paid.

Owingsville, Ky., Sept. 9th, 1884.

V. B. YOUNG, Attorney.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE!

B. F. Frattman's administrator against

B. F. Frattman's heirs &c.

By virtue of a judgment of the Bath circuit court, rendered at its August term, 1884, I shall, as master commissioner of said court, on Monday, Oct. 13, 1884,

the same being the first day of the Bath county court, at the court house door in the town of Owingville, Ky., offer for sale, to the highest bidder, the dwelling house and lot of said B. F. Frattman, situated in the town of Owingville, on Main street, and occupied by Mrs. Emily Frattman, and described as follows, viz: Beginning at corner of lot of G. M. Curry, on Main street, thence running westwardly with said lot to Water street, thence with Water street, eastwardly to the lot of Goodpaster & Barnes, thence southwardly with said lot to the corner of A. J. Ewing's lot, thence westwardly with said lot to the northwest corner thereof, thence southwardly with said Ewing's lot to Main street, thence eastwardly with Main street to the beginning. This is a very desirable property having on it a large and commodious dwelling, all the modern conveniences, out houses &c, a fine well of never failing water, and situated in the center of the town. This is a very desirable property for sale to the highest and best bidder, on a credit of six and twelve months, the purchaser to execute bonds payable to the commissioner, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent, per annum from day of sale until paid, with good security, having the same force as a judgment, on which execution may issue if not paid at maturity, and retaining a lien on said property until said bonds are fully paid.

Public Sale of Land and Corn

We are going to Mt. Sterling to live, and in order to get some money to help pay for property bought by us in that city, we will sell to the highest bidder on Saturday, Oct. 18th, '84.

Our farm containing 85 acres, good blue grass and tobacco land, laying one half mile north of Sharpburg, Bath county, Ky. The Carlisle, East Union and Sharpburg Turnpike Road now being made through this farm, dividing it into two lots or farms. One piece has about 60 acres, and the other piece has about 25 acres in it. There is a well and good barn on each piece of land. There is a No. 1 orchard, with plenty of never failing water for man and beast on each piece. You see this farm is susceptible of division, and we will try to sell it in quantities to suit those wishing to buy. A good and perfect title made to the buyer, with time easy and made known on day of sale. This the 18th day of Sept. 1884.

A Trip To Dayton.

Accepting an invitation from Mr. J. A. Mitchell, agent for the Dayton Hedge Company, we boarded the early train at Mt. Sterling last Friday morning and were soon speeding on our journey. Arriving at Cincinnati, we took dinner, and at 2:30 boarded a Bee Line train for that beautiful city on the Miami.

It was our first trip through this portion of Ohio and we were very much impressed with the evidences of enterprise and thrift evident on every side. The valley of the Miami is the richest and most fertile section of the State. The farms, all clean, well fenced and well cultivated are very models of the industrious, frugal husbandman's art, in striking contrast with many of our own, so much richer by nature, yet from a lack of good management, not yielding one half the dividends. There nothing is wasted. What is taken from the ground in the way of cereals, is returned again that fall in wister or the next spring, as manure. Thus, the land is constantly growing richer. The farms are all small and command a much higher price, per acre, than those in the famous blue grass section of our own state. The houses are generally small, the most imposing structures being the barns in which the grain is housed and the stock sheltered from the chilling blasts of winter. The distance from Cincinnati to Dayton, by the route we traveled, is sixty miles and we were just two hours in making the run.

THE CITY is built immediately on the Miami river and has a population of about fifty thousand. Here manufacturing, in all of its branches, is carried on giving employment to thousands of men. The streets are broad, smooth clean and well shaded. The attractions of the place are many, too many in fact, to attempt an enumeration in the limited space we have at command, but this sketch would be incomplete were we to fail to notice the pride of all Daytonians and the greatest of all her attractions. We refer to the SOLDIERS' HOME.

This institution was incorporated by Act of Congress, March 3, 1895, is situated just three miles from the city, and can be reached either by rail or carriage, over one of the most beautiful drives in the whole country. As one enters the grounds a scene of indescribable loveliness bursts upon the vision. Broad lakes, shaded drives, green lawns, flower gardens more exquisitely beautiful than anything we ever beheld, cool, leaf embowered groves, through which ripple miniature brooks, filled with gold fish, fountains throwing forth sparkling jets of water, deer parks, imposing brick structures, together with the long rows of barracks and broad avenues, all form a scene of Arcadian beauty impossible to describe, but once seen always to form a pleasant remembrance. It seems that one could live on and on here, oblivious to all that is passing in the busy world outside, but we were told that the inmates become restless and discontented with the idyllic life they have to lead. They are fed, clothed and quartered at the expense of the Government, and remunerative employment furnished all those who desire to labor. The Home has at present about four thousand inmates. No one goes to Dayton without paying a visit to the Soldiers' Home. In 1892 there were 159,036 visitors and the number has been increasing every year since. Time pressing, our visit was circumscribed, in consequence of which we did not get to inspect half the beauties of the place. We hope at some day in the near future to pay a more protracted visit to the Home, which is well worth a pilgrimage to see.

But the primary object of our visit was to inspect the fences which had been planted by the

DAYTON HEDGE COMPANY, and to give our impressions of the same. Mr. F. A. Goodpaster, acknowledged to be one of the nearest farmers in the county, was our companion on the trip, and the certificate we gave the company, published elsewhere, speaks for itself. We inspected a number of fences in the vicinity of Dayton and from this inspection we are more than convinced that the Dayton Hedge Fence is, by overwhelming odds, both the cheapest and the best fee for the farmers of Bath county. Why? Because it will last for ages, the only repairing needed being to keep it pruned, twice a year, a labor which a man can perform at the rate of a mile a day; the actual cost per rod is less than any other fence; the payments are so arranged that the farmer does not feel them, being in four annual payments, or while the fence is growing; the increase of the value of the farm, in dollars per acre; the saving of about one acre of ground per mile, and other reasons too numerous to mention. Water will not wash it away nor wind blow it down. It does not sprout from the root. The ground can be cultivated within eighteen inches of the fence. It is so strong that no animal can break it nor tramp climb over it. The company's plan of operation is briefly, as follows: The plants are set out eight inches apart. When this is done a payment of 25c per rod is due. The second year men are sent to reset any plants that may have died; 25c more per rod is due this year. The third year 25c more per rod is due. The fourth year the plants are ready for what is termed plashing. The plashing is done by removing the dirt, cutting the roots on each side and bending the cane at an angle of 45 degrees, cut off at the height desired, and four lines of barbed wire attached, fastened to every cane by a staple. Now you have a complete, stock proof, growing fence, and you make the last payment of fifty cents per rod, making in all $1.25 per rod. By the process of cutting the roots the plant is dwarfed, and is constantly patting out shoots from the top of the stem, filling every particle of space left by transplanting and plashing, so that not a single hole, large enough for the passage of a small pig is left.

Our rich soil is peculiarly adapted to the growth of this fence and when it is introduced, will speedily come into general use. The Dayton Hedge company has been doing business for twenty years and is financially very strong.

In Tennessee the company has planted its fences in twenty-eight counties. Here is what the Clarksville (Tenn.) Tobacco Leaf has to say. "There is no estimating on the advantages of such a fence. It will certainly increase the value of a farm fifty if not one hundred per cent, for it is everlasting and needs no repairing—does its own repairing—continually growing and thickening up, and will not destroy or damage the land like the old way of hedging, as some suppose, because dwarfed by cutting the roots when plashed and no sprouts put up to injure the land."

We are grieved to announce the death of our esteemed and big-hearted fellow townsman, Tilford Moores, which occurred on Wednesday night of last week at about 11 o'clock. Deceased had been confined to his bed by an attack of typhoid, from which blood poisoning ensued, for two weeks.

It is hard for us to realize that one, who a few short weeks ago was so full of life, so jovial, so companionable and with every prospect of a long life, has passed over the dark river. But the ways of Providence are inscrutable and although the heart swells to bursting with poignant grief, it is said that we must bow to the rod that smites us and exclaim, "Thy will be done." We all sorrow with the bereaved, devoted wife and her orphaned children.

We were surprised on calling in at John A. Ramsey's hardware store to see the line of breech and muzzle loading single and double Guns he has on hand. They comprise a line of the celebrated Colts Club Breech loads, Parker, Manters, Hollis & Co. also the Davis and other single barrel and single barrel breech loader, in fact a line varying in price from $3.50 to $75.00. He also has leggings, gun cases, crimpers, loaders, fillers, field wipers, cleaners, a fine line of empty and loaded shells, with full line of ammunition. His stock is a credit to the town, and we would advise parties wanting such goods, to give him a call before buying.

We call attention this week to the liberal offer made by that excellent Daily Journal, The National Democrat, Washington, D. C. Our subscribers would do well to avail themselves of the same. Every good Democrat is called upon to aid the circulation of the above mentioned paper. A correspondent is desired in this section. See advertisement.

Messrs. Thompson and Ramsey, our enterprising lively men, will have their stables on Slate Avenue completed by county court day, and will be prepared to accommodate all who may favor them with their patronage. There is plenty of room, and everything is in apple pie order. Give them a call, and have your horses well taken care of.

All my Bath and Rowan county friends are invited to call on me at the popular clothing, and boot and shoe house of T. F. Rogers, at Mt. Sterling, Ky., to inspect our immense stock, just received, and marked at the very lowest Eastern prices.

Yours Respectfully,
E. STEINSCHEIDER,
Formerly with L. R. Slosser, Owingsville, Ky.

Tuesday will be a "Red Letter" day for the Democracy of Bath, because Blackburn, the eloquent exponent of the right, will speak to you.

See Ramsey's line of coal and wood cooking and heating stoves, and get his prices before buying.

Eye Opener.

To the citizens of Bath and surrounding country:

I take pleasure in informing the people of this section that I have just opened the largest assortment of fall and winter goods ever placed on this market. The latest styles of dress goods, in all the fashionable shades, and at prices lower than ever before known. The dry goods department is complete, while in boots and shoes I can beat the world. My stock of ready made clothing comprises everything that is new and nobly, and I can suit you both in style and price.

The goods are all fresh and new, and will be sold at the lowest figures for cash. An inspection of the stock is solicited whether you want to buy or not. Thanking the people for their liberal patronage in the past, and hoping to merit a continuance of the same, I am, very respectfully,

F. SLESSER.

Certificate.

At the solicitation of Mr. J. A. Mitchell, agent of the Dayton (O.) Hedge Company, we visited that city last week, and carefully examined a number of fences they had planted in that vicinity. After a thorough examination of the merits of these several fences, we feel no hesitancy in saying to the farmers of Bath county that we believe this company have successfully solved the vexed "fence question," and that their hedge fence will be the fence of the future for this locality. Its cheapness first commends it, while the liberal and fair terms of the company, it seems to us, is a sufficient guarantee of their honesty of purpose and implicit confidence in the virtue of the goods they offer for sale.

Inquiry also developed the fact that the Company is thoroughly responsible for any and all of its engagements.

THOS. J. YOUNG,
FRANK A. GOODPASTER.

Mr. C. H. Hoon, our popular and enterprising furniture dealer, has just purchased a large stock, preparing for the fall trade. He keeps the best and the cheapest, and can furnish complete outfit for house furnishing at city prices. In addition to his furniture department he has the finest stock of undertaking goods ever brought to this section. The well known reputation of Mr. Hoon for honesty and fair dealing, has gained him a reputation second to none in Eastern Kentucky, and the low prices at which he is selling his goods, make it an object for any one desiring to purchase to call on him. He is foremost in charitable enterprises, and we are glad to learn that he is meeting with the success he so richly deserves.

Letter List.

List of letters remaining in the Post Office at Owingsville Ky., Oct. 9th, 1891:

Henry C. Cunn, Miss Jane Caudill, Wm. Hunt, David Mitchell, R. A. Richardson (2)

Persons calling for any of the above will please say "advertised."

A. S. THOMAS, P. M.

New and late designs in coal vases and coal hods at John A. Ramsey's.

Mr. Geo. P. Stephens wishes us to announce that he will have on exhibition here Monday a few colts, the get of his horse Le Grand jr. This he does thinking it will be to the interest of breeders throughout the county as showing the merit of his horse. Do not fail to see the colts.

We call the attention of our citizens to the professional card of Dr. W. E. Phillips. The Dr. comes highly recommended, not only as a good citizen, but as a good physician, and we solicit for him a liberal share of the public patronage.

Our young friend W. S. Gudgeon has accepted the position of U. S. Ganger and will enter upon the discharge of his duties in a few days. We congratulate him on his good fortune. Uncle Sam is a mighty good paymaster.

Come Tuesday and bring your neighbor to hear Blackburn speak.

I will sell coal at either Preston or Salt Lick stations by the car load or delivered to the consumers in Owingsville, by the wagon load, at the very lowest prices.

J. M. COLLIVER.

We made a little mistake last week in saying that John A. Ramsey had $75,000 guns. Our banker tells us we can't buy any of that kind. Instead of $75,000 read $75.00.

You can find at John A. Ramsey's hardware store a full line of wagon spokes, luggs and spring wagon spokes, and felloes, tongues, shafts &c., &c.

J. S. C. Blackburn, United States Senator elect, speaks here Tuesday.

Now Go To Work.

Below we give the Democratic executive committees for each precinct in this county and urge upon them, as good and true members of the party, to go to work with a will and effect such organizations in their several precincts as were never known before. This is a year big with events. The prospects of our party were never so bright before. The Democrats everywhere are bold and aggressive and pushing the fight, while their opponents are cowering and whipped. Let old Bath be up and at them. This is no time for pulling back nor throwing cold water. If you are a Democrat, be one, bold and manly. Assert it in public and in private, on the highway and by ways, in the field and in the work shop. You are three armed, because you have your quarrel just.

You are battling for a great principle and against a party whose leaders have systematically robbed and plundered the people for years. Lend not your countenance to fraud and dishonesty by supporting the least of them but do your duty in November by voting the whole ticket and receive the reward of an approving conscience. When the smoke of battle has then cleared away and we see the foe, routed and discomfited, fleeing on every side, you can bet your bottom dollar we will have a big time. But, here are your committees:

OWINGSVILLE.—C. W. Honaker, T. J. Young, F. A. Goodpaster, B. F. Parry, V. B. Young, J. M. Brother, Isaac D. ShROUT, T. C. Owings, H. H. Ewing, John F. Johnson, L. A. Goodpaster, W. H. Williams.

To the Farmers of Bath County.

The fence question has become an item of interest to farmers all over the State throughout Kentucky, and more especially throughout the blue grass region of the State. We frequently hear the question asked: "What shall we do for fences?" Timber becoming so scarce and high that fencing in that way costs more than the product of our farms; wire fencing is not a success, as our stock is in danger of being killed or crippled by it. Now, the Dayton Hedge Co. come to you with twenty odd years of experience in hedge fencing and offer to build for you a living fence, one that will last for ages, and at but little more than half the cost of wood fence, on such easy terms that a farmer can pay for it and never feel the cost, as our fence is paid for in four payments. You pay as you see the work progressing, holding two fifths of the money in your hands until the fence is completed. We guarantee you a stock proof fence. We already have miles of completed fence in your State, which a number of farmers of neighboring counties have seen. You will see by the testimony of some of our best citizens that our fence is all we claim for it. We have established an agency in your county, with J. A. Mitchell as manager, who will take your order for fencing, and answer all inquiries you wish to make regarding our fence. Hoping to receive the liberal patronage of the farmers of Bath that we have received from your neighboring counties, we are,

Yours Truly,
DAYTON HEDGE CO.

NOTICE.

All persons indebted to the undersigned as trustee of L. R. Slosser, will please pay or settle the same by the 1st day of September, 1894; and if not paid or settled by that time I shall be compelled to sue.

The Dayton Hedge Fence

The Cheapest,
The Strongest,
The Most Durable,
And the Prettiest Fence in the World!

We desire to announce to the farmers of Bath county that we have established an agency in Bath county, with Mr. J. A. Mitchell as Manager, for the purpose of beautifying and enclosing their farms with our Combined Wire Hedge Fence which is conceded to be the handsomest, the best and most durable fence in the world being a living fence, and with proper care will last a life time. We complete this fence to the satisfaction of purchasers, and at about one-half the cost of post and rail fence. It will outlast a fence of post and rail fences, and will cost less to keep in perfect order—the only necessary attention to the hedge fence after its completion being an occasional pruning which can be done at a very small outlay per rod.

How to Handle a Gun.

The first thing you do, when you go out gunning with another boy, is to guard yourself against accident. The best way to do this is to shoot the other boy before he has time to load his gun. Then take both guns to the nearest creek and throw them in. Throw the powder and shot in after them. If you have any matches about your clothes, throw them in also. Then start at once and go home as fast as ever you can. And if you are under 18 years of age, the chances are, even with these precautions, that you will get both legs and a section of your back filled to the brim with bird shot before you reach home.

"How?"
Goodness only knows how, my son; I don't. I have often wondered how it happened, but I never could ascertain. I am not here to advance ingenious theories, but merely to state cold facts, and I know it to be a solid truth that a boy with a single barreled gun twice as long as himself can manage to shoot himself in than more once than a man with a seven shooter revolver. And am I going to buy you a gun? Yes, I am; sometime in the long vacation, when time hangs heavily on my hands, and I think I would enjoy entertaining you by picking shot out of your legs with a rumpick.

"But you will be careful with it?"
So is a woman very careful with an umbrella; my son, and yet she is unable to account for the startling increase of on-seal men every summer.

The Old Story.

The Philadelphia Times closes an article on the stamping of Presidential candidates as follows: "Since 1872, no Presidential candidate has ventured to initiate the disastrous stamp campaign of Scott, Douglas, Seymour and Greeley. Tilden, then whom man could act or speak more wisely, was stubbornly silent during his memorable campaign of 1876, and Hayes, with freer ability, had sense enough to initiate him. In 1880, Garfield inclined to air himself on the stump; but he was suppressed early in the contest, after misventure at Chattanooga, and thenceforth he was silent as Hancock, the gallant soldier who fell in the conflict. Blaine is now about to add another to the list of Presidential unfortunate who insist upon singing their own political requiem from the stump. He has great skill, ability and eloquence as a campaigner, but he will only multiply his own already great complications in the Western States by his appearance as a party orator, and, unless his past experience is at fault, his campaign on the hustings will be the harbinger of his defeat."

He Was Captured.

A middle aged man, with what appeared to be a load on his mind, visited the Arctic steamer Thetis the other day, and seemed interested in what he saw.
"Say," he said to the officer on deck, "I'd like to go on the next expedition."
"It's awful cold up there," remarked the officer discouragingly.
"I don't care for that."
"You'd have very little to eat, and you might starve to death."
"That wouldn't be pleasant," observed the visitor.
"I should say not," returned the officer. "And you might be eaten by your comrades."
"Is that so? That would be tough."
"And then," continued the officer, "you wouldn't see your wife for three years, or, possibly longer. You know you can't take her with you."
"Well," returned the old gentleman, after a long pause, "guess you can put my name down on your books. Your last argument captures me."—New York Journal.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? It is, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. He pined upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach, and bowels, cures wind colic, soothes the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the best and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Care of Sheep.

The winter care of the flock is where many new sheep men make mistakes. It is no trouble to keep sheep through the summer, but often inexperienced flockmasters lose half their flock in a single winter. The reason of this is either carelessness or ignorance of the sheep. The most successful care of sheep cannot be undertaken without suitable stabling. This is the first and great requisite. There is no use trying to keep a sheep thriving, and at the same time have its wool saturated with water, with the temperature down towards zero. Then, after seeing that you have sufficient shelter for your sheep, the next most important thing is to see that there is an abundant supply of hay and other forage. The hay and fodder must be early cut and put up in the very best condition. With these preliminary preparations a flock of sheep can be wintered safely, cheaply and profitably. With good hay and proper shelter sheep require but little grain. These facts should be determined every shepherd to provide proper stabling for them as an economic measure.—Stock Farm.

Senator Bayard, in a speech in Brooklyn, N. Y., referring to the Mulligan letters, said: "If any man can doubt after reading them, the guilt of Mr. Blaine, particularly in view of the last 'fresh wave' of overwhelming and damning evidence, he could not understand the process of such a man's mind."

There is an element of the ridiculous in a man who is graceful at all times and in all places.

There is a wide distinction between gossip and the intelligent discussion of character.
